

ARTPEACE AND FRIENDS

LITTLE NEWS from ArtPeace this month as most artists cannot afford to top up mobiles but here are some photos to gladden your heart. Mike Masedza, like most of the group had a good harvest this year (left) thanks to ideal growing conditions, fertilisers and chemicals. Mike said that his harvest should last his extended family into next year. Below is a photo of Shingi's harvest. The other two photos show a delighted Godfrey William with some of his crop which he said was much better than last year - a disaster due to the drought. The other good news is that thanks to Judith, a member of Marlow URC, who organised a Barn Dance with proceeds going to the 'Foundations for Farming' course later this year, we have now almost reached our target! Finally, relatives of Verity my CAFOD contact, on holiday in Zimbabwe, managed to take home 30kgs of parcels, so hopefully later next month there will be many new exciting works of art to display at St Andrew's and Southwark Cathedral. Johnston Simpson
